During a disaster, CERT Members can help save lives.

What is Lee County CERT?

The Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) program prepares everyday people to help themselves, their family, their neighbors and their communities in the event of a disaster or emergency.

There are many CERT programs in Lee County. These CERT programs are managed through independent Fire Districts and coordinated in a collaborative manner by the Lee County CERT Advisory Group.

Whether it's just learning...or volunteering – CERT is for everyone.

CERT Members During CERT Basic Training

How does Lee County CERT help our community?

By volunteering, CERT members take an active approach that helps to create a more resilient community. CERT Volunteers use a combination of CERT training, their life's experiences, and knowledge of their community to help professional emergency responders prepare for and respond to disasters and emergencies.

Lee County CERT Volunteers in action:

- In response to events like Hurricane Charley and Tropical Storm Fay, CERT Volunteers helped manage shelters, providing fellow County residents a place of safety during the storm.
- CERT Volunteers support the community year-round by participating in exercises, drills, and disaster preparedness outreach activities.

Doing the greatest good for the greatest number

Your community needs YOU!
